Celebrating
35
Years

of Feeding Families!

FROM THE FAMILY

I wanted to share my 2022 newsletter I sent to our sales reps in January. Also, I wanted to announce that due to a scheduling conflict with the UCCU Center and skyrocketing COVID cases, we've decided to cancel our Food Show this year.

I'm not gonna lie, 2021 was HARD for us here at Alison's Pantry! Mostly product shortages and price changes stick out in my mind, but other things like the freezer taking forever to be built because of missing parts or labor shortages have been hard to bear. There were some weeks where it seemed like it was just one problem after another.

I'm sure it has been a difficult year for many of you too. I occasionally hear about a family member getting sick or losing a loved one or a bunch of other hardships. My heart breaks for you because I know how that feels, but through it all we're coming out of this year still standing and dare I say stronger for the experiences. I truly believe that most, if not all, problems are simply opportunities in disguise. Not all problems or complaints are necessarily bad, or things to be hated or avoided. There have been so many situations in my life where a problem opened up a whole new avenue of thinking and when we solved that problem, we were better for it.

I'm certainly not saying that I go around looking for problems! The heart of my message is this: Develop a positive mindset that helps you get through this life just a little easier. Seeing problems as opportunities doesn't guarantee that you'll love the process or that all problems will have positive outcomes. What it does do, is help you stay positive in an increasingly negative world. A positive mindset will help you get through things that might have seemed impossible. It will help you see the light at the end of the tunnel even when there might be something blocking it. It's like taking the difficulty mode on life down a notch with a cheat code.

It is my sincere hope and wish that all of you have a wonderful 2022 and we can put all this COVID mess behind us. However, if that doesn't happen, we will find a way to make the best of it.

My heartfelt thanks to all of you for making Alison's Pantry the amazing company it is. We could never be where we are without all of you. Thank you for your hard work and although I can never fully express the gratitude in my heart, I hope you can feel it as you read this. Thank you! 1,000 times, thank you.

God bless you all and I wish you an amazing 2022!

Joshua Kisse

"I just used some of these chicken breast pieces with the Kentucky Homestead Chicken and Rice Soup Mix. It was perfect! I put it in the slow cooker with the broth from frozen and 2 hours in I chopped it down to smaller pieces (the chunks are pretty big). Then I added the soup mix and let it continue on low for another 2 hours. With this in the freezer, and the soup mix in the pantry, you're always ready for dinner when you can't hit the store."
