From the Family

Do you ever get the feeling that you're missing out on spending time with the people in your life that you care about the most? If you're anything like me my guess is that you do. Balancing all the demands we have on us is difficult! As I look at the picture of my family I see how quickly my kids are growing up and it helps me appreciate the time I get to spend with my family. In today's fast paced world it's easy to get caught up in what my mom always called 'The thick of thin things'. I really didn't appreciate her telling me that at the time, but over the years I've come to realize that she was giving me pearls of wisdom. It's important to remember who it is that we're working for and keep in mind that people are more important than things.

A big reason of why I love Alison's Pantry is the people I get to work with. I love talking with reps, RSM's, and even customers. This business is about the personal connections we share. I know it's easy to lose and even forget about personal connections, but I feel that it is exactly what we need more of in our day and age. I have a hard time remembering to slow down, put away the tech and enjoy my family. I hope the next time that beautiful screen beckons; maybe remember the little faces that might be looking up at you on the other side of that screen and choose to connect instead with a little piece of heaven. Thank you for being a part of Alison's Pantry.
